

GEA ADVENTURE CLUB

Kayak Adventure along the Goodale State Park Kayak Trail
Conserving and Protecting South Carolina's Environment

THE GEA ADVENTURE CLUB IS...

a program centered on learning about the environment while experiencing the environment through moderate-intensity aerobic activity such as hiking or kayaking. This sort of physical activity has many health benefits. Through GEA Adventure Club programs, participants are exposed to healthy activities they can continue throughout their lifetime and acquire knowledge about healthy recreational activity choices while learning about and experiencing the environment.

PROGRAM DETAILS...

WHEN:	Saturday November 1, 2025
TIME:	10:00 am
DURATION:	2 hours
LOCATION:	Goodale State Park, 650 Park Road, Camden SC 29020
LENGTH:	3 miles
COST:	Free! (includes use of GEA Kayak - limited to 20 participants)

OVERVIEW

South Carolina DNR Director, Dr. Tom Mullikin will give a brief overview of the environmental significance of the location to be explored and speak on the topic "Conserving and Protecting South Carolina's Environment".

Thomas Mullikin Jr. will guide the out and back water trail "kayak expedition" starting near the spillway and paddling across Adams Mill Pond. Upon reaching Pine Tree Creek the group will follow the white trail signs winding through a forest of bald cypress trees where you may see a variety of birds such as the great blue heron and possibly even an alligator or two. At a point where two logs are downed across the creek, the group will turn around and return.

